It is a great pleasure to welcome you to one of the most inclusive, diverse, eclectic Classical Music Festivals in the UK. Internationally based musicians return year on year and you will see their names throughout our programming. Music is heard for the first time from performers in our communities, schools, pubs, country estates and churches. We are delighted to have prepared numerous expressive and unique performances to elevate us in celebration of the human spirit. We will be commissioning composers Roderick Williams OBE with echoes of Vaughan Williams in his new work reflecting the Turtle Doves at Knepp Castle, and Malcolm Singer who will write a set of Psalms to mirror and mark Berstein's centenary and Chichester Psalms. Debussy's passing a hundred years ago is marked in the programming.

Other highlights include concertos with trumpeter Crispian Steele Perkins and recorder player Michala Petri. Our String Academy has been very active and we are thrilled that our former member in Will Duerden will be televised on and in the BBC Young Musician of the Year Final. Other past pupils now hold positions as managers junior professors and performers in organisations including the English Chamber Orchestra, City of London Sinfonia, Junior Trinity Laban Conservatoire and two have founded their own Ensembles.

We are very grateful to our very generous sponsors Toovey's, Kreston Reeves (formerly Spofforths), NFU Mutual, Nyetimber, Rossana, and Wakefields for Rolex and Bremont. The Festival Friends and String Academy stand alongside some of the world's finest musicians to central to our music making which emanates and elevates from the grass roots of Sussex. Our international base becomes ever stronger with our burgeoning exchange programme called Trinity Sannyi Music Academy with an office in our County and Hong Kong with my wonderful partner Nicholin Choi.

We hope you enjoy and are transformed through this ever growing renaissance and join us in our ascendancy of music and community.

Yours,

Andrew Bernardi Artistic Director, Shipley Arts Festival
